SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT
COLEBROOK & COLUMBIA

Major renovations and repairs to our school facilities were major items for the 1989-90 school year.

It was well into the winter months before exterior walls, brick facing, and windows were replaced at the elementary school building. At the Academy, the formerly designated Vocational Agriculture building was renovated to expand the Industrial Arts area. In the main Academy building, a sprinkler system was installed in the third floor music room and fire doors with magnetic catches were placed in the second floor corridors.

The Colebrook School Board appointed Pamela Bunnell to replace Eric Stohl, who resigned in October after several years of dedicated service. The board's negotiating team spent many hours in an attempt to reach an agreement with the Colebrook Education Association (CEA, NEA/NH). Unfortunately, the parties could not resolve their differences on the issues through the mediation and fact-finding procedures.

Colebrook Elementary School had a new teacher, Tracey Redding - teaching social studies and Vickie Taylor was a new Grade 2 teacher in the Primary Building.

Kevin Graham, elementary science teacher, placed fourth in a state-wide computer contest and received a cash award and commendation from Governor Gregg.

Deborah Dionne, Marion Godzyk, Joan Walsh, and Karen Shaffer coached the new elementary Odyssey of the Mind Team to a splendid second place finish in the regional competition which gave the team the opportunity to make a respectable showing in the state meet.

Friends at Colebrook Elementary School (FACES) continued work on many projects and brought several cultural programs to the school and community.

A parent volunteer program was initiated at the primary level and was directed by Mary Lynch, parent member of the School Improvement Team.

Governor Gregg visited the primary school and spoke with the fourth grade students and presented awards to several junior high students.

At the Academy, William Schomburg was named Assistant Principal and Richard Irwin went back to full time teaching while Priscilla McGuire was on a leave of absence.

Through the efforts of Mary Ann Lawton and Robert Unangst, and with the support of Principal Robert Mills, foreign language and science teachers enjoyed an educational trip to Epcot Center in Orlando, Florida.

After three years as Colebrook Elementary School Principal, Stephen LeShane resigned to take a similar position in Lebanon, Maine.

As the report indicates, 1989-90 was a fruitful, busy year. We still face many space problems, particularly at the elementary level and the Colebrook School Board still has renovation plans ready for implementation at the Academy.

Economic conditions locally and State-wide have put some needed improvements on a "hold" status, but we must all work together in a cooperative effort to provide a quality education for our future adult citizens. It is an investment we must give our priority attention.

Respectfully submitted,

Paul F. Allen
Superintendent of Schools

COORDINATOR OF SPECIAL SERVICES

During the 1989-90 school year, the Special Education programs within S A U #7 focused on integrating educationally handicapped students into the regular education classroom. Federal Grant monies were used to hire a consultant to work with regular education teachers in helping them develop effective program strategies. Also, books were purchased through Federal Grant funds for regular education teachers in each of the schools. These books contained methods and techniques of teaching toward various student abilities.

Collaboration between regular educators and special education staff will continue to be a vital component in effective programming for students.

There was continued investigation and application of various alternative means of making education more relevant for some students. Daily Living Skills programs and community-based work study programs were explored to varying degrees in both Pittsburg and Colebrook. In the long run, these programs will need strong community support.

During this past year, we had four staff members pursuing their Special Education certification through an alternative program. These staff members were involved in the Pool Expansion Plan (P E P) program which is fully certified by the State Department of Education. This extensive course of study will provide the necessary skills to enhance the Special Education programs in S A U #7.

We were fortunate in having two exemplary professionals, Polly Joos and Jane Merrithew, provide our students with Speech-Language services and Occupational Therapy services. Their creative and even-mannered approach with students is to be commended. We were also able to provide physical therapy, counseling, and diagnostic services through local and regional agencies.

Finally, we need to continue to work toward ways of providing for all children's educational needs without labeling them, categorizing them, and in the long run, belittling their intelligence as human beings. The respect we show toward children at home and at school will reward us ten-fold in the future. The self-esteem we help foster in children should be the only thing "Special" about educators.

Respectfully submitted,

Thomas Oren
Coordinator of Special Services

GUIDANCE COUNSELOR'S REPORT

The 1989-90 school year could best be described as a very busy one for the Guidance Office. Since more than forty percent of counselor time is spent on clerical work, the other diverse responsibilities of a high school guidance office must be worked into the other fifty some-odd-percent of the day. With the exception of individual meetings with Seniors in regard to their post-secondary plans, any individual time for other student concerns is extremely limited.

Career Development at the Junior High was team taught by Heidi Daley and myself and we were able to spend time with both the seventh and the eighth graders. All juniors at the Academy were given the Harrington O'Shea Career Decision Making System to help them with the development of their future plans.

A group was started at the Academy for children of alcoholics and met every other week until the end of the school year.

In the spring, when we did our scheduling for the 1990-91 school year, we were able to add a "C" track to the ninth, tenth, and eleventh grade English curriculum to help our slower learners. We also added another period to the school day hoping to make more options available to students and to ease the scheduling crunch. Both additions will be evaluated at the end of the school year.

Respectfully submitted,

Alice M. Tunny

SCHOOL HEALTH REPORT

Although the school nurse works essentially with the well child, school nursing also includes children with acute and chronic illness, injury, handicapping conditions and developmental disabilities.

This year, as in the past, the usual screening procedures were done with appropriate referrals and follow up.

The drug and alcohol curriculum, "Here's Looking At You, 2000" is now being used in all the grades. Children and teachers alike are enjoying and finding the program very worthwhile.

This year a grant for a comprehensive school health curriculum for Grades 1 - 12 was written and accepted. A workshop was held for all teachers in S A U #7 and this program will go into effect this fall.

In general, school nursing this year was uneventful with the customary services provided.

I would like to thank everyone for their help and involvement this year. I would especially like to thank Diana Ouimette, who as a parent volunteer, gave many hours of her time in the school health office.

Respectfully submitted,

Sarah Jane Cummings
School Nurse

COLEBROOK/COLUMBIA CHAPTER I REPORT

This year 59 children from grades 1-4 received Chapter I supportive reading services.

A review of all collected evaluation data substantiated significant gains in the area of reading comprehension for all students. The projected was at least a 7 NCE gain for 85%. The actual was an 8 NCE gain for 1 student in grade 3 and higher gains for all others. 100% of the Chapter I participants in grades 2-4 made higher gains than those projected.

Criterion referenced interim testing in Gr. 1 indicated mastery of skills with 90% accuracy (readiness-1/2) for 86 percent of those in the program.

All subjective information used to assess student progress and the total Chapter I program reflected a high degree of success.

It was determined that the program was meeting the needs of participating students and no change was indicated concerning instructional methods.

A document describing Parent Involvement Policies and Procedures was written, proposed, and approved by the Colebrook-Columbia Study group December 5, 1989.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Faith Adair, Gail Nugent, Kathy Hannagan, Lindy Falconer, Sandra Jeffers, Peter Hallee, Carol Dinco, Sharon Lane and Principal, Stephen LeShane for all their valuable contributions while serving as Study Group members.

As parents they realized that in order to get the best for and from their children, parents needed to be involved in their activities. They also believed that providing parents with an opportunity to show their children that they felt strongly about education told children that what they spent their school day doing was important. With this in mind, they dedicated the Parent Involvement Policies in expectation of growth in both age groups.

Parents logged 260 hours as volunteers in the Chapter I classroom. Their help was extremely influential in stimulating not only individual success for the children, but program success as well. Thank you very much for your caring support.

Again this year "Spring Fling" was a smashing success. The children's creativity in writing and then performing The Stranger for the community was fantastic.

Everyone who became involved in ensuring that Chapter I participants would not only become good readers, but would also gain self-confidence and high esteem should be commended.

Respectfully submitted,

Rosalie Hawes
Chapter I Project Manager
